"Roswell Wool has given my ranching operation an opportunity to compete in a global wool market. Roswell Wool is a producer-owned warehouse that wants to seek the best possible outcome for its customers. Efficiency and Honesty is how they operate, but above all Roswell Wool is a great supporter of the American Sheep Industry!"

Roswell Wool

"Roswell Wool has a commitment of service to the USA wool industry and it shows in everything they do. From willingness to facilitate trading wools from all over the country, to common sense in wool logistics, to commitment to using and improving technology in their business, to their commitment to quality improvement. And with their willingness to stand behind the quality of every pound of wool they sell on their growers' behalf, they make a positive difference in the industry. We are happy and honored to buy from Roswell Wool as we strive to represent the USA wool industry in a similar way."
